

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Department of Language & Literacy Education

Faculty of Education

Part-Time (50%) Lecturer, Teaching English as an Additional Language

The Department of Language and Literacy Education (LLED), located in the Faculty of Education at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver (Point Grey), invites applications for a part-time (50%) lecturer position. The position is expected to commence September 1, 2018 on an annually renewable basis for up to a three-year period.

The Department of Language and Literacy Education (LLED, www.lled.educ.ubc.ca) is a vibrant, multidisciplinary group of outstanding researchers committed to excellence in scholarship, teaching, community engagement, and professional leadership. Our research and teaching are responsive to Canada's multicultural, multilingual contexts and the changing global and transnational influences on languages, literacies and cultures. Department members engage in research collaborations with educational communities at the local, national, and international levels to advance theoretical understandings, practical knowledge, and the study of the teaching and learning of language, literacy, literature and culture in their broadest sense. A major emphasis of the Department is on issues of equity and justice in a range of educational contexts and across a range of cultures. The department contributes to the Faculty's Teacher Education Program and Master of Educational Technology and offers Master's and Ph.D. programs in Literacy Education, Teaching English as a Second Language, and Modern Language Education.

The University of British Columbia is in beautiful Vancouver, a multicultural, multilingual city ranked as one of the world's best places to live. The University is recognized internationally as a leading research institution and, recently, was ranked as #3 in Canada in the QS World Rankings. The Faculty of Education shares this commitment to research excellence and provides a comprehensive set of programmatic offerings at the baccalaureate, magisterial and doctoral levels. Academic units include the Department of Language and Literacy Education, the Department of Educational and Counselling Psychology and Special Education, the Department of Curriculum and Pedagogy, the Department of Educational Studies, and the School of Kinesiology. The Faculty is a leader in Indigenous Education and offers additional cross-Faculty initiatives in early childhood education, educational technology and interdisciplinary studies. For further details about the Faculty and its research, please visit www.educ.ubc.ca.

We seek applicants who will contribute to equal opportunities at the University of British Columbia. We will particularly welcome candidates who place gender, race and ethnicity, diasporic concerns, underrepresented populations, or social inequalities at the center of their research and teaching interests in Teaching English as an Additional Language as these pertain to groups historically underrepresented in higher education.

Candidates must possess a doctoral degree in education (preference given to those in the area of second/foreign language teacher education), experience teaching at the post-secondary level as well as in school settings, excellent communication skills and an ability to work collaboratively. Evidence of knowledge and leadership in language education is essential. Preference will be given to candidates with documented prior experience in teacher education in teaching English as an additional language and leadership experience in teaching, curriculum development, and program coordination in both face-to-face and online learning environments. Candidates should be enthusiastic about teaching a diverse group of undergraduate students and have excellent pedagogical and communicative skills, including the ability to translate research to diverse audiences.

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Department of Language & Literacy Education

Faculty of Education

The successful candidate is expected to (a) teach and coordinate multi-section courses related to teaching English language learners in the B.Ed. and the Diploma teacher education programs, courses in the TESL Certificate Program, and/or courses in the online M.Ed. Program; (b) contribute to the scholarly community and service work of the Department, the Faculty of Education, and the University community; and (c) participate in outreach within the broader educational community. The annual workload for this position is 5 courses (15 credits) or equivalent.

Interested parties are encouraged to send an updated CV, cover letter, evidence of effective teaching, and the names and contact details of three referees. All applications must be submitted electronically, in the format of a single, bookmarked PDF file to: lled-posting.educ@ubc.ca Please include the position title in your subject line. The application deadline for this position is 8:00am, Tuesday, July 3, 2018.

Due to the number of applications we receive, we are not able to confirm receipt of submissions over the phone or by mail/email, nor can we provide the status of applications except to those who are shortlisted for an interview.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.